

Had an Aepiphanni, Lately? September 2009

From the Desk of Rick Meekins

Hello!! We are approaching the fourth Quarter of 2009!
Question for you: What obstacles are keeping you from getting where you want to be?

Here's a great story: The Obstacle in Our Path...In ancient times, a king had a boulder placed on a roadway. Then he hid himself and watched to see if anyone would remove the huge rock. Some of the king's wealthiest merchants and courtiers came by and simply walked around it...[click here for the rest of the story]

Podcast: Leading the Organization that Survives

Presented to ACIBN

August 12, 2009

When making decisions for your company, you need to have four things:

1. A Passion for Possibilities
2. A Commitment to Priorities
3. Relevant Information
4. The Courage to Assume Risk

In part two of Leading the Organization that Survives, I'll talk about the need for gathering good information and how to do it, and risk: assessing it, determining how to manage it and making your decision.

Enjoy! Any comments or feedback are welcome!

Keepin' it Movin'!: Motivation to Continue to Strive

I believe in always looking forward.

I believe in sharing goodwill.

I believe that community starts with me.

I believe that my company is here to serve.

I believe.

What do you believe? What are you doing about it?

Where ever we start out, we start out with an idea or a dream. We want to do something to serve some purpose. be it open a company or companies to make as much money as possible, or to reach the top of the jungle gym. It all starts with a dream.

Here's a video from a dreamer – a dreamer that failed again and again and again. until he became the best:
